1. Class attendance and participation. Each student is expected to prepare for, attend, and participate actively in each class session. Punctuality is also expected. These professional behaviors are essential to successful achievement in this course as well as in the profession. Since class participation is critical to attainment of course objectives, very few reasons will be accepted for missing, or being tardy for, class.

2. Video Summaries. During the semester, 7 videos will be shown during class. For five of the videos, the student must prepare a written summary of the video. The video summary will be due the following class session. The summary must include bibliographic information; a summary of major points; state and federal regulations addressed; and major implications for you as a service provider. The summary should be typed, double-spaced, with correct punctuation, grammar, and sentence construction. The summary should be between 2-4 pages.

3. Article Reviews. In addition to readings in the required texts, additional readings are required. For 10 of the articles, each student is expected to complete an article review. The review must include bibliographic information, a brief synopsis of the contents of the reading, and implications for educators charged with ensuring a free appropriate public education for students with disabilities. Article reviews must be typed, double spaced, and be between 2-4 pages. It is suggested that the article reviews be submitted throughout the semester. Half of the article reviews are due by mid-term, or March 9, 2004; the remainder are due no later than April 27, 2004

4. Mid-term Examination. Two case studies from the Boyle and Weishaar text will be selected for the mid-term examination. Students will respond to assigned case studies related to the Nevada Administrative Code, Section 388, and federal laws and regulations, The Individuals with Disabilities Education Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended. Responses must be thorough, based on legal requirements of pertinent state and federal statutes and regulations, and address points discussed in class. The mid-term examination will be a take home examination. It will be distributed on March 2, 2004 during class. It is due at the beginning of class on March 16, 2004.

5. Final Examination. Four case studies from the Boyle and Weishaar text will be selected for the final examination. Responses must address pertinent regulations in the Nevada Administrative Code, Section 388, and federal laws and regulations, The Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). Responses must be thorough, based on legal requirements of pertinent state and federal statutes and regulations, and address points discussed in class. Responses must be typed with correct spelling, punctuation, grammar, sentence construction, etc. The final examination will be a take-home examination. The exam will be distributed on April 27, 2004 and is due no later than 4:00 p.m. on May 11, 2004.

Grading Scale: (Note: Points will be deducted for late assignments.)

Points will be deducted for late work. Assignments submitted after the due day, but during the same week, will be accepted with a 5-point penalty. Work that is submitted after the week during which it is due will be subject to a 25% penalty. Work will not be accepted more than two weeks after the due date.

Assignments will be evaluated on both content and language usage. Assignments completed outside of class must be typed or word-processed with correct syntax, grammar, spelling, and punctuation. Points will be deducted for errors in any of these areas.
SPECIAL NOTES

Disability Resource Center
The Americans with Disabilities Act mandates accessibility in all aspects of the learning environment. "If you have a documented disability that may require assistance, you will need to contact the Disability Resource Center (DRC) for coordination in your academic accommodations. The Disability Resource Center is located in the Reynolds Student Services Complex, room 137. The DRC phone number is 895-0866 or TDD 895-0652."

Academic Integrity Statement
UNLV and its College of Education demand a high level of scholarly behavior and academic honesty on the part of students. Violations by students exhibiting honesty while carrying out academic assignments and procedural steps for dealing with academic integrity are delineated in the Handbook of Regulations Governing Probation and Suspension Within The College of Education. This publication may be found in the curriculum Materials Library (CML – CEB 101), the Department of Educational Leadership (CEB 320), or the Office of the Dean of the College Education (CEB 301).

Religious Holidays
It is UNLV’s policy to give students who miss class because of observance of religious holidays the opportunity to make up missed work. Students are responsible for notifying the instructor no later than the last day of registration for the semester or summer term of plans to observe the holiday.

Beepers and Cellular Telephones
It is UNLV’s policy that all beepers and cellular telephones must be turned off during class time. If extenuating circumstances exist that this policy cannot be followed, please consult with the professor.

Accreditation Purposes
Assignments completed for this course may be used as evidence of candidate learning in national, regional, and state accreditation reports of College of Education Programs. Names and of the identifying elements of all assignments will be removed from being included in any report. Your participation and cooperation in the review of COE programs is appreciated. If you do not wish to have your coursework used, it is your responsibility to let the professor know.
